Campus Event Discovery

A Modern Solution to Student Engagement

The Core Problem

There is always something happening on campus, but students constantly miss the best events because the information is scattered everywhere. Why it happens:

- The Group Chat Mess: Event flyers get dumped into active WhatsApp groups. Within an hour, the poster is buried under 50 random messages, making it impossible to find the time and location when you actually need it.
- The "I Forgot" Problem: You see a cool flyer on an Instagram story, but you can't easily add it to your calendar or click a link to register right then. You tell yourself you'll do it later, totally forget, and realize it happened yesterday.
- The Campus Bubble: You only hear about events from the 3 or 4 clubs you already follow. If a different department hosts an amazing networking night or hackathon, you won't even know it exists because you aren't in their specific WhatsApp group.

> The Result
> Club presidents stress out about nobody showing up, and students miss out on portfolio projects, networking, and free food simply because the communication is broken.

The Solution

We are building a single, centralized discovery feed that puts every campus event in one place, making it impossible to miss out on opportunities. How it works:

- One Feed for Everything: Instead of checking 10 different WhatsApp groups and hunting through Instagram stories, you just open one website. Every event, from every club, is organized in a single, scrolling feed.
- Zero-Friction Reminders: See an event you like? Hit one button to add it to your personal calendar or save it to your profile. You will get a notification before it starts, so you never accidentally forget a registration deadline or sleep through a workshop again.
- Break the Campus Bubble: You don't need to follow a specific club to see what they are doing. The platform automatically shows you everything happening on campus across all departments, organized by simple filters like "Hackathons," "Networking," or "Social."

> The Result (A Win-Win)
> Students get a stress-free way to find resume-building projects, connect with alumni, and discover what is actually happening on campus. Meanwhile, club organizers stop stressing about empty rooms and finally get the massive event turnout their hard work deserves.

What We Are

1. Feels Like a Social App
   Old platforms feel like boring, clunky school websites. Ours is built for students. It uses a single-column scrolling feed, so finding events feels exactly like scrolling through Instagram or TikTok.
2. No Annoying Logins
   You shouldn't have to log in to a school portal just to see what's happening this weekend. On our platform, you click the link and instantly see live events. You only log in (with one Google click) if you want to save an event for later.
3. Posters Over Text
   Nobody reads long paragraphs. We put the club's actual event poster front and center, taking up the whole screen. It's highly visual and exciting to browse.
4. Focused on Action
   Other platforms are cluttered with admin tools and club budgets. We just focus on getting you to the event. You see a poster, check the date, and tap one button to either RSVP or add it straight to your calendar.
